Documentation is required to support the domestic origin of the product.

10. Grading and Inspection:

- a. Inspection must be performed by Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service.

- a. Hand Sampling: Sample obtained by manually passing a tray through the flow of potatoes by a trained and approved sample puller. Sample puller may be a processor employee.
- b. Mechanical Sampling: Sample obtained mechanically by a trained and approved sample puller. (Federal Inspection Service must approve all mechanical samplers)

Samples may be graded individually or aggregated by either of the following:

- a. Each truck load is graded and certified individually.
- b. Grading and certification can include that days run for individual growers and a single days harvesting from the same field for the individual grower constitutes a combined sample.

Sampling Procedures:

- a. Samples should represent a minimum of one half of 1 percent or greater of the total gross weight.
- b. Sampling is performed by either method 1.) a. or b. as identified in the Sampling Method above.
- c. Samples should be taken from the back, middle, and front of the truck as it is unloaded.
- d. After the sample is drawn, it is then carefully deposited in a sample bin(s). Each bin holds approximately 1,000 pounds of potatoes. Sample slips/scale tickets bearing pertinent information are either inserted in the bin or attached to the outside of the bin.
- e. Sample bins are submitted for grading, where they are individually weighed and handled by machinery and dumped mechanically. This method helps to stabilize the accuracy and helps to eliminate bruises caused by handling of samples.
